Distinguished Guest Speaker

Larry D. King, J.D.

Larry D. King has been a great asset to Center for Advanced Legal Studies as a respected member of our law faculty for nearly 20 years. He belongs to an illustrious group of lawmakers and educators who have always been willing to go the extra mile. Larry's engaging personality and subtle humor combined with his expertise in a variety of legal areas has helped him prepare literally thousands of graduates for success in their paralegal career. As an experienced lawyer and educator, he is truly invested in his students' success. His background includes website design, implementation, and teaching of web-based synchronous and asynchronous legal education courses.

Larry recently retired from the active practice of law after over 40 years as an attorney. His practice areas included civil litigation, employment, insurance defense, contracts, and business law. In addition to the private practice of law, he has worked for both an insurance defense litigation firm and corporate law departments. His corporate experience includes over fourteen years in the American General Corporation Law Department where he served as Associate General Counsel and was responsible for major corporate litigation, and he supervised other attorneys and paralegals. For several years he was an attorney recruiter for a legal staffing company that recruited and placed attorneys and paralegals.
