

Early childhood autism services in the comfort of your home

If your child has recently been diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) and a professional has referred your child to therapy, then you may be wondering which therapy service provider is best for your family.

While there are many options available to you, choose a provider that uses proven therapy strategies, and who you and your child are comfortable with. And the earlier you start, the better off your child will be.

We'd like to help.

Early intervention ABA therapy in your home

Very young children with autism have different needs than adolescents and teenagers. That is why at Opya we have chosen to specialize in early childhood autism therapy.

Our primary therapy model is Applied Behavior Analysis, or ABA, which research has shown to be an effective treatment for children diagnosed with autism. ABA most often leads to clinically proven results and positive outcomes especially if therapy is started when the child is between 18 months and 5 years of age.

We provide ABA therapy in your home so our therapists can connect with your child in their natural everyday environment and work on important daily living skills. To us, home is the optimal place for very young children to receive therapy because it is safe and comfortable, and we can best prepare your child to appropriately transition to new care settings such as elementary school.

Respecting your child as an individual

Every child with autism has different strengths and challenges, which is why our therapies are individualized to meet your child's unique needs. In addition to personalized ABA therapy, we provide speech and occupational therapy via telehealth for your child. Our services also include regular parent and family training to ensure the entire team is working to optimize your child's development.

Great care starts with great clinicians

To give you and your child the best care possible, we hire compassionate individuals who want to make a positive difference in children's lives. We provide these clinicians with highly specialized training to be experts in pediatric autism care. To ensure the best care without overloading our team, we also limit our Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) caseloads.

"We have an awesome ABA behavioral therapist at Opya who works with our whole family, not just our child. He realizes my son doesn't live in a vacuum and creates opportunities that include everyone."
