Deb Logan

Blue Zones Project SWFL leader named to top innovators in healthcare list

Deb Logan, executive director for Blue Zones Project (BZP) Southwest Florida, recently received national recognition as a Top 25 Innovator in Healthcare by Modern Healthcare. For more than five years, Logan has led the BZP Southwest Florida team – which touches more than 225,000 lives and covers a geographic area larger than Delaware – to improve well-being among residents by transforming the places they live, work, and play, according to a news release. Since 2019, Modern Healthcare has honored the industry's top 25 innovators who are driving change across healthcare to promote quality, affordability, accessibility, and sustainability. Each honoree is distinguished for instituting innovation and leading transformative programs that improve care by achieving measurable results and contributing to the clinical and financial goals of their organization.
