- Yes, we had a post-travel quarantine policy during COVID-19 earlier this year, but it has been lifted
- Yes, we currently have a post-travel quarantine policy
- No, we do not currently have a post-travel quarantine policy, but we are considering adjusting our travel policy to include one in the near future
- No, we do not have a post-travel quarantine policy

Additional Data Note: Due to the small number of organizations measuring the quarantine period using business days, no average number of business days could be calculated or reported. However, one organization did provide a number of business days for their post-travel quarantine period. The requirement cited for both personal and work-related travel requires that employees quarantine for at least 5 business days post-travel before returning to onsite work.
