

The feeling of accomplishment is important to every company. Successful projects define Akveo's philosophy as a software development provider and show our skills to a full degree. However, what they really mean is the outcome they have brought to our customers.

BANKING AND FINANCE

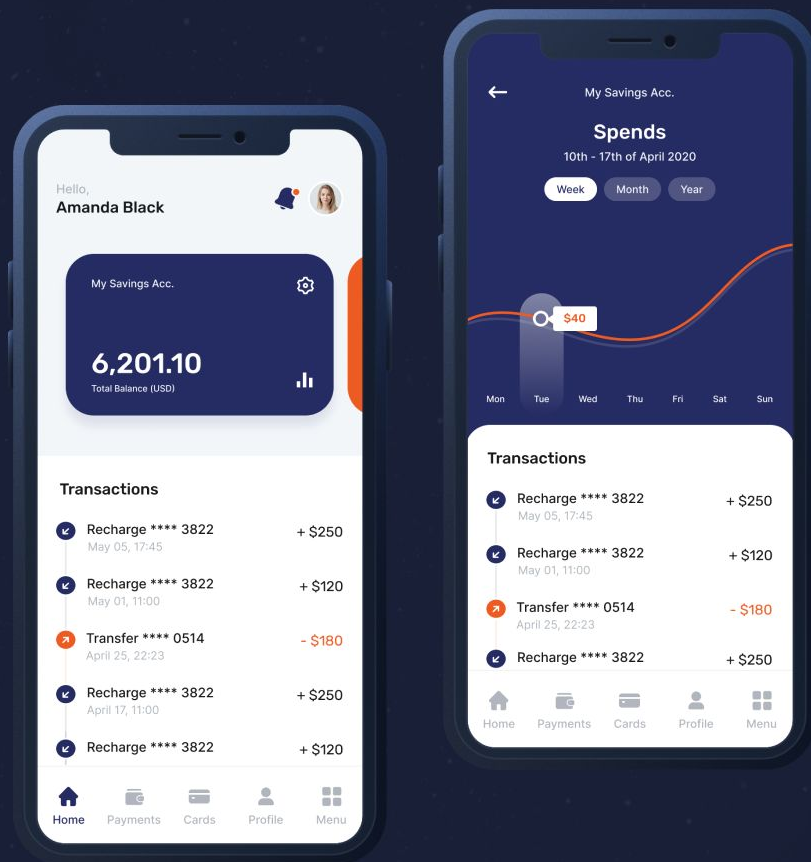

Mobile Banking Application

Challenge

The banking domain in the client's region is extremely dynamic and competitive. On average, there are more than 20 banks per country, so user acquisition costs are incredibly high. In such circumstances, any bank that wants to beat the competition has to be prompt, flexible, and able to offer unique solutions for its customers.

Results

The application allows users to manage cards, bills, transfers, loans, deposits in a couple of touches, not to mention excellent security and 24/7 customer support.

The React Native framework became a sort of “silver bullet” that allowed us to build up Android and iOS applications out of a single codebase.

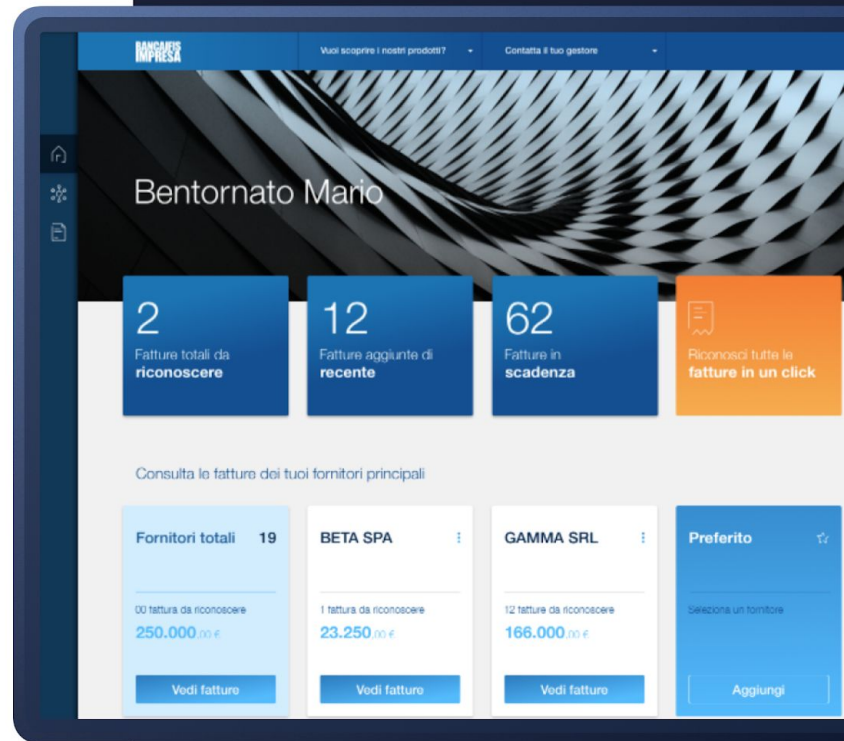

The framework provides the opportunity for frequent releases and upgrades. As a result, the solution’s time-to-market has decreased significantly.

HAAST wanted to launch a software solution that brings online UK-based professionals in the field of construction. The company already had a half-done Angular web application but needed to launch a brand new mobile solution in short notice.

Results

The robust mobile app fits industry-specific needs and represents a network that links construction jobs to contractors nationwide. Used by hundreds of British industry professionals, the solution has a convenient management system that allows managing subcontractors, materials, equipment, and much more in a few clicks.

The screenshot displays the 'Project Creating' interface, which is divided into four steps: 1. GENERAL SETTINGS, 2. INITIAL QUESTIONS, 3. SUPPLIERS (currently active), and 4. CONFIRMATION.
