OSHA'S TOP 10 VIOLATIONS FOR 2020

Each year, accidents cost businesses millions of dollars. At times tragically, these preventable accidents even cost people their life. If safety is important to you and your organization, then you will appreciate reviewing OSHA's Top 10 Most Frequently Cited Violations for 2020. It is important to see these violations in print and pay attention to what we can all do to minimize exposure to these hazards.

Important Notes: Industrial truck citations came in at #7. This means we still have more work to do to improve training and overall operating conditions in our workplaces. Proper training and maintenance will help accomplish this along with appropriate Personal Protection Equipment (PPE).

Encourage both managers and workers to take safety seriously.
