Why should you buy Corporate Travel?

- Corporate Travel is a necessity for businesses and shouldn't be regarded as a luxury purchase
- Hospital costs in the US can reach US$30,000 per day
- A simple surgical procedure such as an appendectomy can cost up to $40,000 in Thailand
- Since the COVID-19 pandemic, air evacuations from neighbouring countries have inflated by 300% or more and costs now begin from $150,000.

Key Coverage

Medical Expenses, Medical Evacuation and Additional Expenses:

- Pre-existing medical conditions are not excluded provided the treatment is unforeseen, the insured person is not travelling against Doctor's advice, and is fit to travel
- Ongoing medical expenses included for up to 24 months
- Medical repatriation to first world care
- Additional expenses including reasonable expenses for airfares, accommodation and out of pocket expenses
- Repatriation to Australia following evacuation or hospitalisation
- Repatriation of mortal remains in the event of death.

Cancellation, Curtailment and Loss of Deposits

- Unexpected death, injury or sickness of an insured person
- Unforeseen circumstances resulting in cancellation or curtailment of travel plans
- Death, serious injury or sickness of the insured person's close relative, business partner or travel companion
- Reward Points Reimbursed
- Overbooked Flight benefit
- Pet Boarding Expenses.

Note: With effect from March 2020 any changes to plans due to COVID-19 or any variation of coronavirus are not considered unforeseen.

Luggage, Personal Effects and Money
