SUMMARY

I'm a recent graduate of a full-stack programming Bootcamp. My biggest strengths are in C#, HTML, CSS, and front end web development. As a 3yr Veteran of the U.S. Army, I gained valuable experience during my service such as discipline, hard work, determination, and a relentless drive to accomplish the mission at hand. That attitude earned me 4 Army Achievement Medals during my service.

EDUCATION

WORK EXPERIENCE

Freelance Backpacker

Self-Employed

09/2019 - 03/2020 Bali, Indonesia

- I taught myself how to work a camera a took on freelance jobs as a photographer.
- Taught myself how to fly a drone and took on freelance work and a drone videographer.
- Created high quality videos using Final Cut Pro.
- Received my TEFL Cert (Teaching English as a Foreign Language) and taught english virtually to children in China.

WHAT I'M PROUD OF

My Focus & Persistence

Despite any hard situation, I keep my focus on my goals and always move towards them.

My Flexibility & Adaptability

I've left a small village with 1000 people to live in São Paulo, a megacity with 11 million people, and I didn't have any problem with that. Then I left my country to live in Ireland and I'm doing well.

Call Center Rep (Temp)

Wal-Mart Pharmacy

📅 04/2019 - 09/2019 📍 Orlando, Florida

- Answered patient calls and directed them to appropriate departments.
  - Kept records of medication transfers that occurred.

Specialist

U.S. ARMY

📅 10/2011 - 10/2014 📍 Camp Casey, South Korea

- Installed, maintained, troubleshoot and operated radio and digital communications.
- Kept 100% accountability of all equipment by using proper documentation and procedures.
- Ensured equipment is properly secure in accordance with physical security policies and regulations.
- Army Achievement Medal (x4)
- What I learned the most from this position is never accepting failure or defeat. That "never give up" attitude. It gives me the confidence that I can overcome anything.
