

Helping a construction industry client with Certified Payroll reporting

About EJM Pipe Services, Inc.

EJM Pipe Services in Columbus, Minnesota has been a leader in the trenchless industry for 40 years. From 1976 to today the company has evolved from a jack and bore contractor with auger boring machines to a trenchless contractor that has the equipment and expertise to install any pipe using trenchless methods in all soil types. What makes EJM special is their ability to complete some of the toughest jobs out there, the longevity of their workers, and the ability to complete projects on time and within budget.

The Problem

Part of EJM's business is based on working on government contracts. To be in compliance with the terms of each contract, EJM must adhere to paying employees the correct prevailing wage and fringe benefits as well as supplying Certified Payroll Reports to the Federal agencies that fund their projects. All of these additional requirements, including the fear of repercussions from mistakes, add even more stress to an already stressful process.

EJM's Payroll Manager was looking to benefit from automating the generation of accurate Certified Payroll Reports.

The Solution

IDI worked to deliver our Contractor Central Certified Payroll Reporting solution to complement EJM's current systems. Now each pay cycle after payroll runs, Contractor Central accurately and reliably generates Certified Payroll Reports for Sheryl to send to their funding agencies. Other solutions available through Contractor Central:

- ✓ Prevailing wage based on multiple variables (e.g., location, job, task, effective dated rates into the future)
- ✓ Fringe rates associated with the prevailing wage rate
- ✓ ERP integration (calculating benefit/burden costs)

A boring and underground utilities company.

I love the ability to import the information for Certified Payrolls, make updates to the project info, and print the completed forms off. It is a great time saver.
