EDUCATIONAL SPACE MANAGEMENT & CONTACT TRACING PLATFORM

Overview

Educational institutions everywhere want to reopen, stay open, and provide an enriching campus experience, which means leaders must manage space effectively for students, faculty, and administrators. They also must build a community of confidence and trust during COVID-19.

KettleSpace has a solution for organizations of any size to help manage spaces. Our platform supplies the tools to facilitate reservations. Working with your teams, we customize the technology to adhere to your safety guidelines, facilitate contact tracing, and align with your privacy standards.

How It Works

For your students and employees, we enable you to offer accessible spaces that follow COVID-19 safety guidelines. KettleSpace's platform provides a reservation and notification system. With our mobile app, a user can see which spaces are available at a given time.
