Today's Discussion

- Craft a vision for the future of education designed for every child, every educator
- Explore an established framework for decision-making, strategic goal setting, and improvement efforts
- Define quality and equity in today's context and challenges
- Discuss opportunities to use stimulus funding to rebuild and restabilize in high-quality and equitable ways

How do you define quality in today's context amidst the challenges we're facing?

How do you define equity now, especially in the context of a global pandemic and children returning to school?

What opportunities do you see to use stimulus funding to rebuild and restablize in high-quality and equitable ways?

Questions?

Let's Work Together to Drive Equity and Quality Through Interactions

Teachstone can help you:

- Build warm classroom environments and support social-emotional development
- Build a high-quality workforce and promote positive child outcomes
- Build capacity to ensure equity of quality interactions in every classroom
