

CORE INTRANET

SHAREPOINT MODERN AND OFFICE 365

THE MODERN INTRANET

Good internal communications tools are key in today's workplace. Central to this is the intranet or digital workplace. For some they mean the same thing, but for others they're very different concepts.

For us the digital workplace is our digital work environment and all the tools we need to do our daily jobs. The intranet is a central part of the workplace, housing company information and news as well as traditionally access to key tools, colleagues and social features. At Sigma Worklife we are proud to be able to offer both a classical intranet solution and a digital workplace platform to meet the needs of different people and different organisations.

Core Intranet is an intranet in its classic sense but with a modern look and feel. It is fast, and intuitive and it looks great. It can be used on computers, tablets or phones, in the office, on the bus or at home. Each employee consumes personalized information and can also influence their information flow, if they wish.

BUILT IN SHAREPOINT MODERN AND OFFICE 365

Core Intranet is built in the latest version of SharePoint Online, the one called SharePoint Modern.

SharePoint Modern itself comes with a very good user experience and many basic features are available in the standard setup. This is what we call a good foundation to build on. On top of Core Intranet we add our Core features that, through many generations of Core, have created great value for customers in several different industries.

With Core Intranet in SharePoint Modern you get a modern intranet that is naturally integrated into Office 365 and all the tools it offers.

CONTINUOUS DEVELOPMENT

Core Intranet is constantly being developed by Sigma's product team and new updates are released each month. As a Core customer, however, you can always choose when you want to perform an update. In this way, updates can be aligned with other processes and communications happening in your organisation.

All of our development follows Microsoft's guidelines for how new functionality interacts with SharePoint and Office 365. This means that we can guarantee that the features we develop will not affect the underlying platform and that everything will continue to work as usual after an upgrade.
