

Aircraft Onboarding

Experience a smooth migration & seamless transition.

Making the Move to Flightdocs Maintenance is Easy

From start to finish, we make the transition to Flightdocs easy for you and your team. Using a streamlined and structured process, we are able to enroll hundreds of aircraft every month from competitor platforms, in-house programs, spreadsheets, and paper logbooks.

Our Onboarding Analysts handle the heavy lifting of the data migration, and aircraft go through a comprehensive QA process to ensure proper configuration and airworthiness. Once your aircraft and account is set up, our best-in-class support team will coordinate training and get you up and running in no time.

Flightdocs Maintenance Onboarding Process

Initial Kickoff

We start the process with an initial call to introduce you and your team to the Flightdocs Onboarding team. We begin with a few questions to detail your needs, requests, and concerns. Based on agreed-upon deliverables and requests, we create a timeline for go-live.

Migration

Once we receive your data, we initiate the migration of your aircraft into the platform. This will include scheduled inspections, components, ADs, SBs, and any custom tasks you may be currently tracking.

Comparison & Analysis

We do a full comparison against the OEM program your aircraft is following. Any discrepancies between your aircraft and the OEM program are compiled and presented to you for review and verification. After the comparison is completed, all aircraft go through a secondary QA process to confirm accuracy and data integrity.

Get Started Today

With an optimized and complete migration plan that fits your operation, we are standing by and ready to discuss how to get you started with the transition to ATP today.

Release & Access

Upon final review of all discrepancies, your account and aircraft will be fully activated, and our team will provide access to you and your team. Granular permission levels can be set for users based on responsibilities and roles.

Unlimited Training

Unlimited training is available for all our customers. On enrollment, our Client Services Team will reach out and coordinate a custom training plan for your team. The application also has videos and step-by-step tutorials built-in for instant access.
