Introduction

Are you paying too much for a click on a Facebook ad? What’s a good conversion rate on LinkedIn?

These questions are top-of-mind for marketers tasked with generating leads in any industry. At AdStage, we believe data should be used to drive decisions that will grow your business. To help you set the benchmarks for success, we’ve aggregated data from 7.3 billion impressions and almost 80 million clicks powered by the AdStage platform.

We used this data to find network-specific benchmarks for paid search and paid social. Our benchmark report includes AdStage data from the following ad networks:

- Pinterest
- Google Ads
- Facebook
- Instagram
- LinkedIn
- Twitter
- Microsoft Advertising
- Quora

Methodology

Benchmark metrics are representative of AdStage clients who utilize our products to manage and report on advertising accounts in the North American region. We make no claims that our benchmark metrics are indicators of a network's performance at large. Customers' ad accounts that meet certain spend and activity thresholds are aggregated and summarized to produce median values across our client population. AdStage will revise prior reported metrics based on ad account corrections after the end of the period.

In Q1 2020, we analyzed over 360 million ad impressions and over 4 million clicks for ads in Facebook’s News Feed Network.

Median CPC lost some of its gain from Q4, sliding down $0.03 to $0.78, not far off than it was a year ago in Q1 2019.

Key Takeaways
- CPC decreased by 2.6% since Q4 2019
- CPC increased by 5% year over year since Q1 2019
Median CPM reversed course in Q1 2020, decreasing $0.23 to $8.71 since last quarter, but remains lower than a year ago in Q1 2019. We observed higher variability between advertisers this quarter than the previous three, and nearly half of individual advertisers studied did see CPM increases this quarter.

Key Takeaways
- CPM decreased by 2.4% since Q4 2019
- CPM decreased by 17.6% year over year since Q1 2019
Median CTR for Facebook’s News Feed ads decreased by 0.03% compared to the previous quarter and decreased by 0.37% compared to the previous year. Quarter to quarter variation has stabilized among the advertisers studied, but we expect that Q2 will show higher variability as we’ve previously seen.

Key Takeaways
- CTR decreased by 2.6% since Q4 2019
- CTR decreased by 25% year over year since Q1 2019
In Q1 2020, we analyzed over 7 million ad impressions and thousands of clicks for ads in Facebook’s Right Hand Column.

Median CPC fell to $1.30 in Q1 after seeing an increase in Q4. Overall we’ve seen a downward trend, with Q1 CPC $1.00 lower than it was a year ago in 2019.

Key Takeaways
- CPC decreased by 18% since Q4 2019
- CPC decreased by 44% year over year since Q1 2019
Median CPM fell $0.30 ending at $2.13 for the first quarter of 2020. We’ve seen an overall upward trend over the last 5 quarters with the median CPM $0.23 higher than it was a year ago in Q1 2019.

Key Takeaways

- CPM decreased by 12% since Q4 2019
- CPM increased by 12% year over year since Q1 2019
Our analysis continues to show an increasing trend for Right Hand Column median CTR. Q1 increased slightly to 0.16% over the previous quarter, and has doubled the reported CTR from a year ago in Q1 2019.

Key Takeaways

- CTR increased by 7% since Q4 2019
- CTR increased by 100% year over year since Q1 2019
In Q1 2020, we analyzed over 7 million ad impressions and tens of thousands of clicks for ads in Facebook’s Marketplace. We’ve seen a stable CPC over the past few quarters, with a sizable increase in Q1 2020.

Median CPC is $0.15 higher than Q4 2019, and significantly lower than it was a year ago in Q1 2019.

Key Takeaways
- CPC increased by 28% since Q4 2019
- CPC decreased by 43% year over year since Q1 2019
Median CPM rose to $5.79 since last quarter, but remains significantly lower than it was a year ago in Q1 2019. Our data indicate a higher than usual variability in reported CPMs so advertisers results may vary widely than we’ve observed. Overall, CPM has been on an upward trend since Q2 2019.

Key Takeaways
- CPM increased by 23% since Q4 2019
- CPM decreased by 17% year over year since Q1 2019
The Q1 2020 median CTR gave up its gains from Q4, ending at 0.71%, a 0.15% decrease. We see a general upward trend over the past year but are unsure if that will continue in our current environment.

Key Takeaways
- CTR decreased by 17% since Q4 2019
- CTR increased by 29% year over year since Q1 2019
In Q1 2020, we analyzed over 21 million ad impressions and almost 150 thousand clicks for ads in Facebook’s Audience Network.

60 INSIGHTS FROM THE EXPERTS
Q1 2020

What tactic do you wish you did more of in Q1 2020?

Ryan Berry
Owner, Cornerhouse Media Ltd

Creative angle testing during "normal" conditions. It's very difficult to know if any new but underperforming creative is working poorly due to Covid or simply because the angle does not resonate with the consumer.
How are you seeing or expecting your budgets to be affected by coronavirus?

Shelby Valentine
Digital Marketing Manager, Style Advertising

We've seen our restaurant client budgets shift majorly from PR initiatives to digital ones. With digital, it's crucial for their followers to see every post if we can help it. Whether it's a new to-go feature, cocktail kit and/or grocery list items, the need is bigger than ever for communication being pushed out digitally and in a hurry. Because of this, our digital budgets have drastically increased when it comes to number of posts and digital advertising budgets.

Ryan Berry
Owner, Cornerhouse Media Ltd

Some companies are pausing ad spend for two months while they create new infrastructure. Others are continuing to grow week on week - it all depends on the underlying business model and how it can adapt to a strategy with zero offline conversions.
What’s the best company pivot due to COVID-19 you’ve seen?

A company pivot that has really stood out to me is the restaurant industry creating and selling grocery packs for their customers. It includes items such as milk, bread, eggs, produce, toilet paper and even high-quality meat cuts. We have also seen companies that specialize in mold remediation and waterproofing utilize their services to perform corporate disinfecting services for business owners.
