Video reflection

Watch the video again and, with your partner, reflect on each of the three clips using the prompts below.

Part 1	Macro-analysis
Briefly relate this part of the video to the previous lesson.	This clip captures the macro-activities of powerful and impactful actors necessary for the mass-production of cheap material goods. In the previous lesson, students learned about this manufactured ecosystem where the primary objective of governments, corporations, and lobby groups is higher profits. The environmental impacts of this ecosystem—environmental degradation, industrial pollution (air, water, and land), deforestation, carbon emission, exploitation of human labor, destruction of natural habitats, etc.—is captured accurately and grotesquely in this clip.
Part 2	Give this clip a title _____
Describe the man's attitudes and habits in this clip, and the kinds of societal and cultural pressures that may be shaping them.
Part 3	Give this clip a title _____
Describe the man's mindset transformation at the end of the video and what may have caused him to change. What factors from his life may have made this transformation initially difficult?

The Prophet said, “Should you wish to act, ponder well the consequences. If good, carry on. If not, desist.”

Now that you understand the impact individuals (personal ethics) can have, privately reflect on your own attitudes and habits that may bear consequences on the environment. How can the messages from the video and the prophetic instruction regarding personal environmental ethics apply to you?
