

Employment opportunity

Project Coordinator (market access), London

---

Overview

A graduate position, you will have an interest in developing your skills as a project manager, and will be keen to progress your career within the market access consultancy sector. Ideally, you may have had some experience within project management via an internship or similar.

Your primary role

Your project coordination responsibilities will be to support global market access projects as part of a project team, including: managing fieldwork for each project (liaising with and commissioning external vendors, managing freelancers), sourcing quotations from new suppliers on a project-by-project basis.

As you progress within the team to Fieldwork Executive level, you will also get greater exposure to negotiations, as well as developing your understanding of the market access division and different global markets in which we work.

Further information

This is a full time role (37.5 hours a week), based at our fantastic HQ location in Fulham Green, directly opposite Putney Bridge in London, which boasts free state-of-the-art gym with showers, on-site café, outdoor cinema, panoramic river views, landscaped gardens and regular social events.

About Research Partnership

We are the largest independent healthcare market research and consulting agency in the world. Trusted partner to the global pharmaceutical industry, we use our expertise and experience to deliver intelligent, tailor-made solutions.

Enjoy a successful and fulfilling career
with us

---

researchpartnership.com/vacancies

London Lyon Singapore
New York Philadelphia San Francisco

---