Research Manager, San Francisco

Your skills and experience

3 to 4 years of experience in market research with healthcare experience. Appreciation of marketing / client side issues. Self-motivated and able to work independently. Good communication skills. Ability to multi task under pressure and to tight deadlines.

Your primary role

Your responsibilities will include managing 2 to 3 projects at a time, plus the associated project teams to meet objectives, whilst providing the main point of contact with the client. You will write proposals, help design and implement the project that you will then run on a daily basis. You will update your Director and prepare and present the majority of client presentations.

You will seek to develop your own client base by building relationships with your clients. You will support senior management in recruitment, training and management of junior staff, as well as developing and implementing internal company procedures.

Further information

This is a full-time role, based in our San Francisco office, located two blocks from Union Square and within a 5 minute walk of both BART and Muni. We offer formal as well as on-the-job training, competitive salaries, and opportunities for internal advancement, health benefits, and a 401K plan with company contributions. If you have the drive and dedication, the sky's the limit!
