

Jesse Okiror

Jesse Okiror is a lawyer and Founder of Suprabook, an app that helps lawyers prepare and argue cases. Before starting Suprabook, Jesse litigated business disputes including disputes between startup founders, investors and founders, and employees and founders.

As a startup founder, Jesse has seen the other side of the disputes he used to litigate. He's made the difficult decisions that founders make with limited time, knowledge, and funds which could cause legal headaches if not done properly. He's also navigated the legalities of incorporation, trademark registration, and fundraising.