

Juli Lassow

Juli is the founder and principal of JHL Solutions, a business solutions and management firm with expertise in retail sourcing.

She supports retailers and suppliers in finding, developing products, and better negotiating with each other. Her mission is to support businesses in better understanding and elevating relationships with key partners so that they can move more quickly to create better products that their customers love.