

super concentrated products = more sustainable + more economical

longer lasting product = saves customer space

J-Fill®

RTD®

SmartDose™/MC

dilution control
paired with patented dosing systems =
less product waste

Water is added at the point of use rather than at the factory, which means the amount of product required for a specific number of cleaning tasks is less than corresponding bulk and ready-to-use alternatives.

less packaging and product waste = reduced carbon footprint stronger chemical = faster & more efficient cleaning

less water =
more savings

less volume/weight per container = lower overall cost of shipping

Contact your Diversey representative today for more information on how super concentrated products can save your company money.