Key Matter Risks

Risk	Preliminary Solution
Going over budget (even one or two firms can cause massive budget overages for the entire project)	<add, delete, modify the bullets below> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Set clear expectations with member firms regarding the client's budget and expectations for communication if the advice is at risk of going over budget. Also, check in with member firms at established intervals to ensure they are on track with their budget estimates.
Going out of scope: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Member firm does work outside the scope without asking or alerting anyone. • Client asks for significant follow up advice or additional drafts after receiving the advice. 	<add, delete, modify the bullets below> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Again, set clear expectations with member firms regarding expected communications for out of scope work. Check in at established intervals to ensure the work is on track and not deviating from the agreed scope. • Have a solid SoW in place that both the member firms and the client have agreed to. Outline how many sessions of Q&A or additional drafts the client is entitled to under the established scope.
Inconsistent advice from one firm to the next (one firm does a deep dive while another skims the surface)	<add, delete, modify the bullets below> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A thorough SoW and attendance at the mandatory kick-off webinar will alleviate much of the risk. Member firms should also be encouraged to ask questions of a designated point person when they are in doubt (most likely the lead member firm).

Lack of communication or poor communication which compromises the quality of the project.	<add, delete, modify the bullets below> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Member firms that discover information that would be helpful to the overall matter should report this to the lead partner so that the information can be shared as applicable among member firms. • The lead member firm and the Lex Mundi BD team will keep one another apprised of all communications with the client. In particular, if Lex Mundi BD is helping to coordinate member firm work the BD point person should be on all client calls to remain up to date and informed of the latest information.
Interjurisdictional dependencies, e.g. sequencing of regulatory notifications, staging of negotiations with different parties etc.
Jurisdictions lacking strong local counsel
Areas where we lack precedents for what we are likely to be confronting
Team capacity to handle workload
