
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CW TECHNOLOGY ACQUIRES SUPERIOR COMPUTER PRODUCTS

Duluth, Minnesota (August 1, 2021) - CW Technology, a leading provider of enterprise-quality IT management services, announced today the acquisition of Superior Computer Products (SCP), a company specializing in management IT and technology services based in Duluth, Minnesota.

David Manion, CEO of CW Technology, stated, "Superior Computer Products is a strong, local company, and I'm very excited that we can combine with a team who shares our culture and passion. We look forward to serving our new clients and continuing to invest in the community."

CW Technology plans to maintain Superior Computer Products commitment to supporting its existing clients, as well as its employees. In addition, CW Technology will bring enhanced solutions and resources to the Superior Computer Products client base, as well as St. Louis County and its surrounding areas. All Superior Computer Products team members will remain with the new company. "The acquisition of SCP by CW Technology benefits both our clients and staff. This combination creates an organization even better able to serve customers and compete in the ever-changing technology industry," says Bob Hansen, President of SCP. This transaction closed on August 1, 2021.

About CW Technology.

CW Technology is a managed IT services and solutions provider, delivering optimal technical services of managed IT, cloud hosting, cyber security, and disaster recovery planning. CW specializes in process-based services, which include full IT support and help desk, business strategy and planning, and unique IT alignment to a defined set of benchmarks.

About Superior Computer Products.

Founded in 1986, Superior Computer Products provides quality experienced efficient expert IT support by maintaining long term customer relationships and SCP staff employment, averaging over 20 years of experience per service team member as of 2013.