

VC 3 ACQUIRES CW TECHNOLOGY

David Manion, CEO of CW Technology: "I am excited to share with you that VC3, a leading managed service provider with a focus on serving municipal governments and commercial businesses, has acquired CW Technology. I will be continuing with the company as a partner. We have worked closely with VC3 for over 10 years and would not have gone down this path without the confidence that this is best solution for our clients and employees as we look at many successful years to come. I am excited about this next chapter for CW Technology and what this means for you and our team."

What Does this Mean for You?

Sandy Reeser, CEO of VC3: "The outstanding service you've come to expect from CW Technology will continue and largely be delivered by your existing local team. Additionally, as a client of CW Technology, you now have a deeper bench of talent and resources ready to serve you. We look forward to making this a smooth transition for you and continuing to meet your technology needs."

What Does this Mean for CW Technology?

David Manion: "The CW Technology team is now part of VC3! The companies will continue to operate under their respective names during an integration period, before eventually transitioning operations under the VC3 brand. I will continue to oversee the growth and operations of the business. I am excited to partner with Sandy and the VC3 team so that we can serve your needs and be a resource to you and your entire organization."

Why Did this Acquisition Happen?

Sandy Reeser: VC3 is a managed service provider with 220 full-time staff, over 1,200 clients in 22 states, and over 25 years of delivering managed services and application development services to our clients. VC3 has been and always will be a service and relationship-oriented company. Much like CW Technology, we work to align our services with your needs so that we can positively affect the way you serve your clients. We are excited about how this acquisition will allow VC3's and CW Technology's staff to become one team focused on delivering exceptional IT services to your organization.

What's Next?

Sandy Reeser: "Your CW Technology services will continue as normal. You have the same access to the same email, phone number, and service desk for your support needs. If you have any additional questions and would like to speak with someone, please reach out to your dedicated CW Advisor or to David Manion. Additionally, I welcome you to contact me using the information below."

Thank you!

David Manion: Thank you for being our client and entrusting us with your information technology needs. Our combined team, including the usual faces you work with, looks forward to continuing to serve you.
