A PUBLICATION OF JEWISH SENIOR SERVICES® THE JEWISH HOME • VOLUME 103 • WINTER 2020

Independent Living - Fairfield

We are so pleased to announce the pending development of an Independent Senior Living community in Fairfield – to be built by well-known developer Robert D. Scinto.

After years of planning and constructing The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Campus on Park Avenue, Jewish Senior Services turned its attention to the one level of care which could not be accomplished on the campus. Independent Living communities are designed to offer seniors the finest apartment-style living with a range of amenities to support their independence. While few exist in our area, many operate throughout the country. Jewish Senior Services has proposed to operate a 148-unit complex – with a mixture of 1-bedroom, 1-bedroom/den, 2-bedroom, and 2-bedroom/den apartments. Each of these will be built to the highest standards in the industry by one of the most trusted names in construction – RD Scinto, Inc.

The site is located on Thorpe Street in Fairfield – just off Exit 21 on I-95. It is a 7-acre site that is adjacent to a large marsh area – and close to downtown Fairfield for shopping and restaurants. Bob Scinto and Jewish Senior Services have worked together throughout 2019 to design the community, and to seek all of the necessary approval in the Town of Fairfield to allow construction to move forward in 2020. The final Public Hearing was held on December 10th at the Planning and Zoning Commission, and the project was approved at the January 14th meeting.

The design will allow individuals to have their own apartments and have access to an array of amenities. The monthly rental fee will include not only all of the basic utilities and taxes, but a daily meal plan, weekly laundry and housekeeping, recreational and exercise activities, a movie theatre and on-site home health nursing staff. All residents will have priority access to other Jewish Senior Services' programs and services – including Assisted Living and Skilled Nursing Care, if needed. Membership in The J Fitness Center will be included as well as transportation to the Weinberg Campus.

For more information and to be kept aware of developments, please contact Liz Lockwood at 203-396-1024. Priority applications will be accepted once construction begins.

Jewish Life on (and off) the Campus

There has always been a deep historic and religious culture at The Jewish Home, and when we were planning for The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Campus, we knew that there would be opportunities to expand that commitment. As we reflect a bit on what has happened, this summary captures the feeling that we have exceeded our expectations in this regard:

Jewish Life for Residents at our core is our commitment to religious life for the people who live at Jewish Senior Services. We celebrate Shabbat, the High Holy Days, Sukkot, Shemini Atzeret, Simchat Torah, Chanukah, Tu B'Shevat, Purim, Pesach, Yom HaShoah (Holocaust Memorial day), Yom Ha'Atzmaut (Israeli Independence Day) and Shavuot.

- The Women's Auxiliary sponsors three Friday night Oneg Shabbats throughout the year – on Chanukah, Purim and Israeli Independence Day
- Visits from area Synagogues around holiday seasons
- Community Leader Lecture Series – to date eight Rabbis have come to lead a discussion with Residents about various Judaic topics of interest.
- A monthly Rosh Chodesh group for Jewish women started August 2019

- PJ Library visited in the JSS sukkah
- Every Monday morning the Israeli Emissaries discuss Jewish life in Israel
- Rabbi Shulman conducts discussions and films related to Jewish topics
- Weekly Congregation B'nai Israel (Bridgeport) pre-school intergenerational programs
 - Merkaz visits regularly with the Residents through the Better Together Program
 - Keshet (adults with disabilities) visits several times a year for programming
 - Bi-Cultural High School of Stamford joined Residents for this past Purim morning megillah reading
 - Entertainment with Jewish, Klezmer and Israeli music

Synagogue Services – there has always been a daily minyan and all of the holiday services at The Jewish Home, and now there is a unique partnership with two Orthodox shuls (Agudas Achim and Ahavath Achim) that has brought their daily minyan here each morning and their congregations together under the rabbinic leadership of Rabbi Peretz Robinson. Their presence has also added a teaching opportunity as the students from the Yeshiva in Waterbury stay after morning minyan to study.

President's Report

Andrew H. Banoff

First, happy and healthy New Year! This is the first issue of Chai Lights under the leadership of new Board Chairperson, Alan Phillips. We welcome Alan to his new role, and know that the Board of Directors remains dedicated and committed to the long-term health and future of Jewish Senior Services.

There is so much to share in this issue, as we continue to expand on the commitment to provide the highest quality of care and quality of life to the seniors that we are privileged to serve. The story on the cover focuses on Jewish Life on the campus, and we recap the wonderful events sponsored by our Women's Auxiliary and Men's Club. Slice of Life includes pictures of Chanukah Celebrations, a Yankee Game and Kindness Rocks. The Employee Awards Celebration in September, Thanksgiving meals in November and the Employee Holiday Party in December were opportunities to recognize the incredible people who do such great work every day. We shared with you the "Great Place to Work" certification last issue, and continue to "kvell" (take pride) in this wonderful accomplishment.

The other cover story focused on the new Independent Living project, which we have proposed to be built in Fairfield with developer, R.D. Scinto, and we are so pleased that this project is moving forward. If you are interested in receiving updates on the project, please contact Liz Lockwood at 203-396-1024 or llockwood@jseniors.org to be added to the information list.

Fiscal Year 2019 was our best ever – as we were privileged to serve more seniors and their families than ever before. The continued growth of our home care and community services allows us to help people not only here on The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Campus – but in their homes (EXCELLENCE IN OUR HOME AND YOURS). We remain the only intergenerational, household model nursing home and assisted living community in the state of Connecticut, and the only intergenerational provider of the full range of services for seniors. We are all so proud of what we have accomplished, and thankful that our community continues to support the work that we do.

You will also read about our Women's Auxiliary and Men's Club events – which allows us to raise the funds to provide the "extras" that we do for Residents and our clients. As always, thank you for all that you do!

The community's generous support has helped us to sustain our mission of providing a safe, secure, and beautiful Jewish home, while also bringing the quality programs and activities to Residents that are so vital in enhancing their lives. These gifts to the Annual Campaign also help to ensure that despite an ever-challenging healthcare environment, combined with a growing aging population, we can continue to take care of our community's seniors for this and future generations.

In one unexpected moment, you or someone you love may require healthcare assistance. Jewish Senior Services is here to help when that moment happens.

Kashrut – we have had a longstanding relationship with Rabbi Mayer Abramowitz for our kosher supervision and last year we signed a historic agreement with the Vaad Hakashrus of Fairfield County that brought our kosher dining program to a new level of cooperation throughout the community. The Vaad endorses and supports our Berkowitz Family Courtyard Café on the campus and our kosher catering services throughout the community.

Kosher Catering – in addition to all of the events on the campus, JSS Kosher Catering, now known as B'Tayavon, provides meals for families, congregations, and events throughout Fairfield and New Haven Counties. Menus are available for Bar/Bat Mitzvah celebrations, all types of simchas, kiddushes, holiday functions, and family events for groups of any size. For further information, please contact Laurie VanCleft, Director, Dining Services, at 203-396-1023 or lvancleft@jseniors.org.

JSS is so pleased to partner with many organizations, and on the 3rd floor of the campus are the offices of Federation for Jewish Philanthropy of Upper Fairfield County, Elayne and James Schoke Jewish Family Service, the Israeli Emissary program, and Merkaz Community High School for Judaic Studies.

Andrew H. Over 50 women gathered in support of the Women's Auxiliary at the Annual Membership Meeting, co-chaired by past President Linda Lazinger and Board Member Vivian Epstein. Members enjoyed listening to CJ Golden, an author, former speech therapist and caregiver. CJ's narrative gives voice to many caregivers' journeys, discovering ways around and through turmoil to seek and find an easier path through life's challenges. Thanks and acknowledgement were given to immediate Past Presidents Debby Hiller and Barbara Kauders for their dedication and support to the Women's Auxiliary during their tenure. Linda Lazinger installed new President Ellen Hyde Phillips as well as welcomed and installed Carol Shapiro to the Women's Auxiliary Board of Directors.

Family Day 2019

Over 500 Residents and family members enjoyed the Family Day Celebration at the Men's Club's annual picnic on September 15. The community gathered to spend time with loved ones amidst rocket ships and planets as the 50th anniversary of the Apollo 11 moon landing was the theme. Ruth Ridgeway Designs transformed the Celebration Courtyard and Bennett Hall into an "out of this world" atmosphere that matched the festive, fun-filled day. Guests enjoyed live music from The Mostly Green Band, plus magic and balloon twisting by Melissa Russo.

Celebrity Breakfast

The fourth annual Celebrity Breakfast, hosted by the Men's Club, was held in September. 200 guests filled Bennett Hall to hear Bruce Beck, NBC-TV Lead Sports Anchor, share highlights of his career. Beck shared stories of his family history and connection to Judaism, players in a variety of sports, challenges and lessons learned during his 25+ years as a sports anchor. The conversation was followed by questions from an eager crowd. Mitchell Adelstein and Brian Miles co-chaired the morning. With the help of 22 waiters (pictured) and sponsors Alliance Energy, Marsh & McLennan Agency, Koskoff Koskoff & Bieder and R.D. Scinto, Inc, over $36,000 was raised.

Annual Meeting

The Men's Club hosted their Annual Meeting on Sunday, November 10. A variety of "game day" foods and drink were served as attendees enjoyed watching the Jets v Giants football game. Approximately 30 friends of Jewish Senior Services and Men's Club members enjoyed the afternoon, graciously hosted by Jeff and Mindy Siegel at their home in Fairfield.

Community Services

Memory Workshop

The Memory Workshop program of Jewish Senior Services is a peer-to-peer support and educational program that uniquely serves adults with Mild Cognitive Impairment (MCI) or dementia in the early stages of the disease.

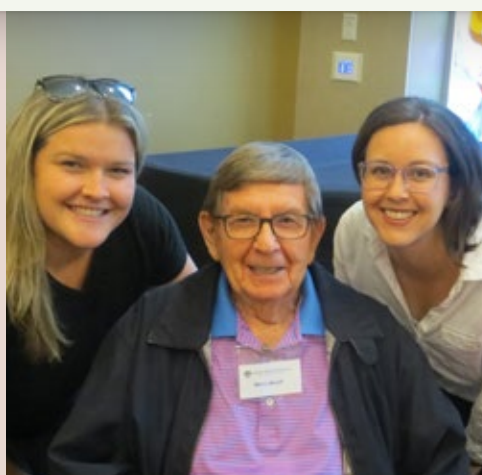

Jewish Senior Services designed the Memory Workshop, managed by David Magner, Program Coordinator, to provide support, strength and purpose for individuals as they connect with others experiencing the same diagnosis. The program includes dementia education, physical and cognitive exercises, health and wellness presentations, group discussions, and personal goal-setting. Care partners also receive support through individual counseling, including planning for the future with a focus on community resources. The Memory Workshop will also be available two days a week at the Bigelow Center for Senior Activities in Fairfield, beginning January 8, 2020!

For more information about the program please contact David Magner, Program Coordinator, at 203-396-1021 or MemoryWorkshop@jseniors.org.

Rehab Reunion

The Goldstein Rehabilitation Center was once again the place for friends to share an evening of laughter and stories of successful recoveries. Catching up with the PT and OT teams was great as well as seeing some of the clients who are now feeling their best!

Mitzvah Projects at Jewish Senior Services

Are you planning a bar or bat mitzvah and looking for somewhere meaningful to volunteer your time or donate specific items? Consider fulfilling your mitzvah project at Jewish Senior Services either interacting with the Residents (schmoozing, performing, visiting with a certified therapy dog, etc.) or collecting something specific. We will help you customize the perfect project that benefits everyone. Mazel tov to Julia Kahn and her family, members of Temple Sholom in Greenwich, on becoming a Bat Mitzvah! Mazel tov to Jacob Leibowitz and his family, members of Temple Shalom in Norwalk, on becoming a Bar Mitzvah! Both Julia and Jacob chose to donate baskets filled with games and activities in lieu of bima flowers. Please contact Dayna Hayden, Director, Development at 203-365-6409 or dhayden@jseniors.org to start a conversation.

Jonas and Pearl Zucker by Charles Zucker

Pearl taught Nursery School at the Jewish community Center. On Fridays, "Mrs. Zucker" would bring her guitar and sing with the children. Her classroom – was almost directly below what is now the JSS Fitness Room!

Jonas was born in Brooklyn in 1924, the third of four children, son of an Optometrist. Jonas' given name is "Jonas J. Zucker"; his father told him he could choose any middle name he wanted that began with J. He's still deciding.

Pearl Kestenbaum was born in Brooklyn in 1927, the second of four children. Her given name was "Cele" but she was known by her Hebrew name: Tziporah. "Pearl" is an Eastern European/Brooklyn mispronunciation of "Tziporah".

In 1942, Jonas enlisted in WWII at the age of 18. He served for three years and was honorably discharged, as a Corporal, in 1945.

After WW11, Jonas attended Hofstra University followed by four years at the Pennsylvania College of Optometry. Soon after, he opened a private practice in Stamford.

Pearl, meanwhile, graduated from Brooklyn College. They were introduced by Jonas' cousin Lucille. Soon after they met, Jonas hosted a party. To Pearl the invitation read, "I'd like you to meet my friends." Everyone else's invitation read, "I'd like you to meet the girl I'm going to marry." They wed in 1949 in Flatbush (if you're keeping score, they just celebrated their 70th wedding).

After stops in Norwich and Bridgeport Jonas and Pearl moved to Fairfield where they lived for the next 60 plus years.

They have four children – David, Beth, Charles and Jonathan.

Jonas is the ultimate DIY guy. When he realized there was no adequate day school for his kids, he started one – The Hillel Academy in Fairfield. Three of his children attended.

Among his tinkering projects – an addition to his house on Warwick Avenue. In Israel, he was introduced to the art of traditional paper cutting; he taught himself to replicate it. He once had a gallery exhibit at the JCC. Other projects – he built desks, bookcases, made clothing and restored bicycles and guitars.

Over the years, Pearl and Jonas found themselves doing "chesed" – service – much of the time. Pearl was active in Hadassah, holding every position at one point or another and being named Woman of the Year. As a baby, Beth required a heart operation. Pearl went door to door collecting for the Heart Association. In 1953, Jonas organized and ran the March of Dimes campaign in Norwich. In Bridgeport, Pearl volunteered for Meals On Wheels. Until very recently she read, once a week, to disadvantaged children. The Zuckers once sponsored an Israeli foreign exchange student for what was to be a three-month commitment. Three years later, he was still there. He's still a part of the family. If you come into Pearl's orbit, you get a birthday card on your birthday.

The children also learned to give back to the community. At an early age, they created backyard carnivals every year to raise money for the Heart Association and the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Jonas was much too restless to simply work. He attended Yale University and got a degree in Public Health. To that end, he opened a low-cost vision center in downtown Bridgeport. He wasn't content simply puttering in his garden, he became a 4-H Master Gardener. And for the last 30 years, he has been composing piano and orchestral music.

Jonas and Pearl have a strong connection to Israel. Jonas was galvanized by the Six Day War in 1967. He bought property in Israel and owned a pharmacy run by his friend Jerry Stepner.

They found a home at Congregation Rodeph Sholom in Bridgeport where the children attended Talmud Torah. They welcomed every new cantor and rabbi that came aboard into the community.

Pearl taught herself to knit, and she made afghans for her children and, subsequently, all her grandchildren. Her hands don't work as well as they used to but, with some assistance, she just finished an afghan for the last grandchild. Pearl and Jonas have made a point of attending nearly every event of their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Their greatest joy? An exotic locale, and a photo holding a Stew Leonard's bag.

Earlier this year, Jonas ran into some medical problems and moved into the JSS. I hate to say they can't be apart but 10 days later Pearl suffered her own medical calamity and also moved into the facility. It seems an inevitability considering that Pearl is a life member of the JSS Women's Auxiliary. Like everything else they've done, they're taking the next part of their journey – together.
