

WFP Opportunity Fund Announces a 13.40% Net Annualized Return through Third Quarter 2018

October 3, 2018, Newport Beach, California – The WFP Opportunity Fund, managed by Wilshire Finance Partners, generated a 13.40% net annualized non-compounded return through the third quarter of 2018. On a stand-alone basis, in the third quarter of 2018 the fund generated an approximate non-compounded return of 2.64% or 10.57% annualized. The net annualized compounded return for the fund since its inception on September 23, 2013 through September 30, 2018 was 14.95%.

The WFP Opportunity Fund seeks to provide attractive risk-adjusted returns to its investors through debt and equity investments in real estate within the United States. Such investments will include, without limitation, direct and indirect equity investments, joint ventures, deeds of trust and mortgages, participating loans and other real estate related investments. The fund is not correlated to the stock or bond markets and has little to no sensitivity to interest rates.

The return obtained by the fund was on an unlevered basis and was primarily the result of interest income received on the trust deeds, mortgages and participating loans in the fund's portfolio.

A significant portion of the fund's return in the third quarter of 2018 was the result of the unrealized accrued gain on a participating loan in the fund's portfolio. The remainder of the return was the result of interest earnings on the underlying pool of real estate secured loans in the fund's portfolio.

The unrealized gain in the participating loan was reflected through an increase in the fund's Net Asset Value (NAV). Once realized, a portion of that gain will become distributable cash and each member of the fund will have the option to receive a quarterly distribution of such cash or direct all or a portion of such member's proportionate share of the distributable cash be reinvested to acquire additional units based on the Net Asset Value of the fund ex-dividend.

The chart below demonstrates how the accrual of unrealized gains on prior investments increased the fund's NAV. It also demonstrates the resulting decrease in the fund's NAV following the realization of the gain and the resulting distribution of the gain to investors (i.e. the NAV ex dividend).

At quarter end, the fund's portfolio primarily consisted of first mortgages, second trust deeds and B Notes with combined loan-to-values of approximately 73.50%. Among the first mortgages held by the fund is an investment in a participating loan on a senior assisted living facility in Florida. The loan against that facility was made to the same borrower/sponsor whose repayment of a prior loan generated significant returns for the fund in the first quarter of 2017.

At September 30, 2018 there were no adversely classified or non-performing loans in the fund's portfolio. Further, as of September 30, 2018, the fund held a cash position of approximately 11.70% of total assets in the fund.

"The fund's return in the third quarter was driven by interest earnings on loans and the accrued, unrealized gain on a participating loan," said Don Pelgrim, CEO of Wilshire Finance Partners. "Investors will note there was a reduction in the return figures between the second and third quarters. That reduction was the result of changing the anticipated date for the realization and receipt of the anticipated gain on a participating loan in the fund's portfolio. Although we originally anticipated that the gain would be realized in the third quarter and there was no anticipated change in the amount of the gain, because the fund uses a straight-line method for accreting the unrealized gain, lengthening the time line for the receipt of the gain resulted in a lower dollar amount captured in the fund's returns for the period. Notwithstanding that change, the portfolio continued to perform well in the third quarter and we are pleased with the year-to-date results."
