

Speeki Survey reinforces our belief that the best companies have people at the heart of their operations. Our new add-on service allows you to assess your employees' knowledge, attitudes and commitment towards ethics and integrity. This will ensure your compliance programme remains effective and contributes to the growth of your organisation.

How Speeki Survey can help you

- Assess your employees' and all third parties' knowledge, attitudes and commitment to your standards on ethics and integrity
- Monitor and gain insights on the effectiveness of your compliance programme
- Continuously improve your compliance programme through regular gap analyses between desired and current practices
- Enrich your compliance programme and engage your employees and all stakeholders within a single platform
- Improve your company's reputation by having a strong and innovative compliance programme that values employee and stakeholder input
